Fig "C"

This is going to be so hard to write. Cindy I really can't even remember how you and I became such close friends. I guess it was just the Lords will that I be wanted up to be close. He works in some mysterious ways I just pray that he helps me with my situation.

Cindy we've been through so much these past 3 years. There so many times to remember. Winning championship in 7th grade then losing in 9th. It just seemed so unreal. Why did it have to happen to us. Remember down at Shaine's lake when you & Debbie had that wreck. Rhonda & Debbie acted like bears that night but it was nice when you all gave me that basketball. You know we've been through an awful lot with "Ted Bruns". I think he deserves to be in parentheses. I know you think so too. We've went to many places with him. Especially in 9th grade. I can remember Maureen playing that song "We are the Champions." It made me sick. But in 1980. "STATE CHAMPS". I can't wait. We are going to have to trust our years to it Cindy but I know of some players who want it awfully bad. Basketball is so much fun. Not only the sport but everything that has to do with it. Such as camp. We'll have to remember the newspaper for this time. That was so funny. We can't forget our shaving cream. We'll get Rhonda good! She has to be educated into 10th grade even though she is going to NCSH. Camp is wonderful. I love it. I'm glad we are going to be roomates again Cindy. I can't believe how much our friendship has grown over these years Cindy. Sometimes you make me awfully upset when I want to be serious about a problem I have and you make jokes. But I guess that's just the "C" Cindy I never want what has built up between you and I to ever fail. I want it to grow as each day goes by. We have so much to look forward to in the next two years. I want us to be able to share all the glory and come together. Remember we are the dynamic duo.

Cindy,
I really enjoyed working with y'all in basketball this year. It was rewarding and I also learned a lot. Mrs. Lord this summer and I know will be successful next year.

RIVERDALE SENIOR HIGH, RIVERDALE, GA.

VOLUME II

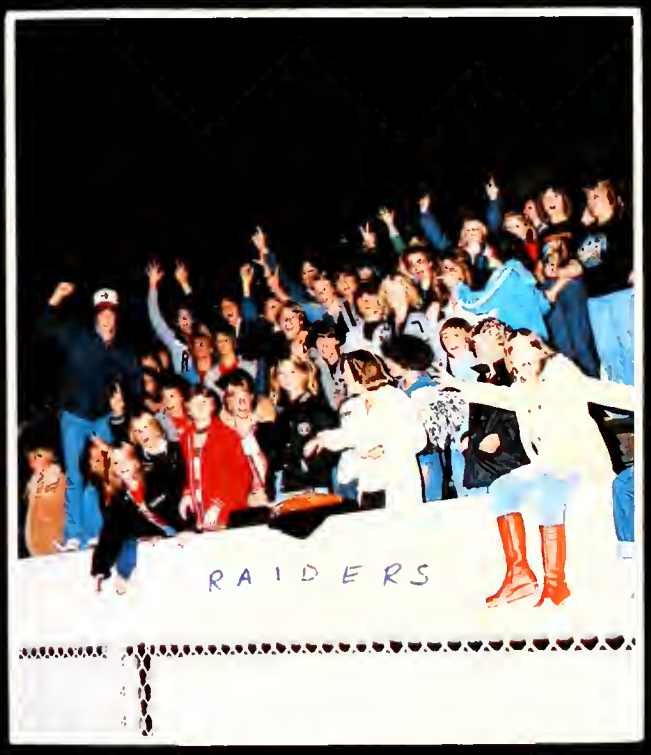
For everything there is a season
A time to win and a time to lose
A time to cheer and a time to sigh
A time to laugh and a time to weep
A time to know and a time to wonder why.

To you, the students of Riverdale Senior High,
We give special recognition and praise
For keeping our school spirit strong.



Summer Dreams

We look to the lost days of summer,
To the warm days,
And cool nights of Atlanta June,
To the sleepy mornings,
And hot afternoons of July 4ths,
To lemonade and shade trees,
Of Southern dreams from long ago.

We dream of star-filled nights and campfires ablaze along Hartwell, Lanier, and Sinclair,
Of visions and sounds from Nature's Chorus,
Of lazy fish and poles bent long,
Of ourselves and all that is within.

Back we look to screams and dreams of 6-flags,
To softball games played in sunset lights,
To long evening drives along country roads,
To warm friends and 94-Q.

But most of all we look to our friends and companions who also share in our Summer Dreams.

DEDICATION

With deep appreciation and affection, we the annual staff, dedicate the 1979
Treasure Chest to one we love,
Mrs. Athena Whitlow . . .

She's one who looks up and not down,
Who looks forward and not back,
Who looks out and not at herself,
And who is willing to lend a hand
To give of herself when needed . . .

She's made each day brighter
By showing sincere interest
And sympathetic understanding
Towards all individuals.

She's one who has the rarest gift
To her beauty . . . common sense.

ADMINISTRATION

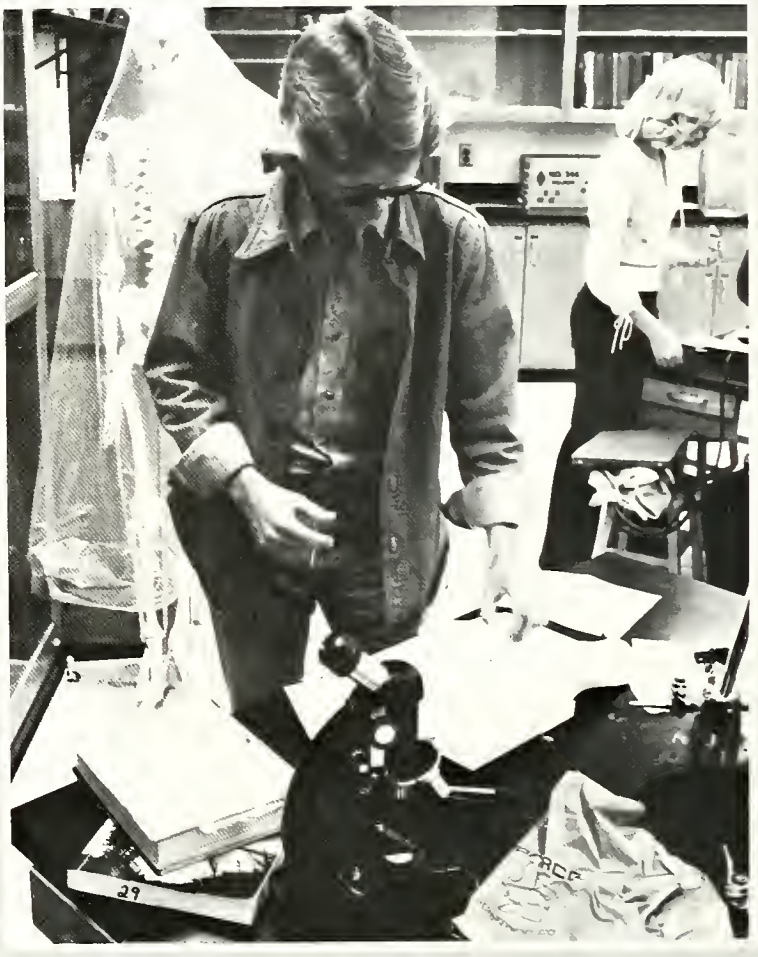
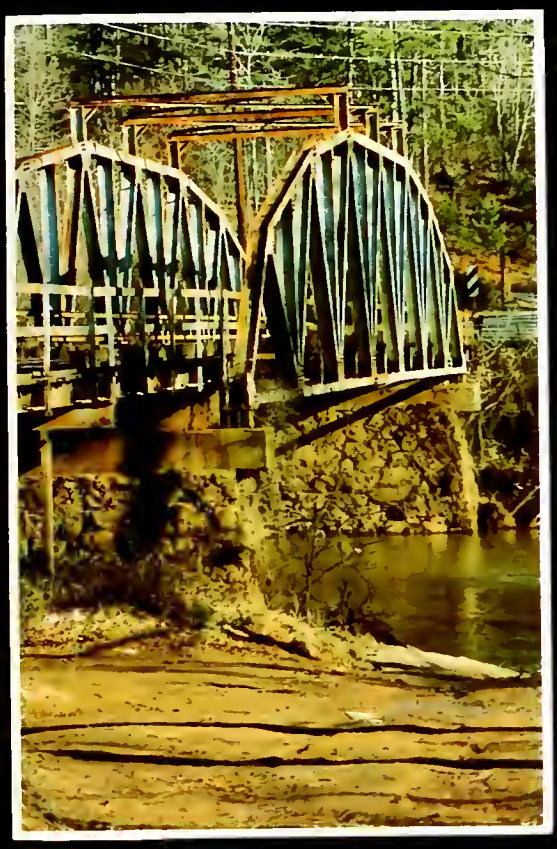
As students at Riverdale, we sometimes take each day for granted. We do not realize the amount of time and effort that is required to run a school as great as ours. Mr. Cobb, as captain of our raider ship keeps us on a smooth sailing course towards graduation. To him we give special thanks for guiding us on our journey. Unlike other captains of foreign vessels, Mr. Cobb is unique, for he has concern for each sailor and crew member of the Riverdale Frigate.



Autumn Song

Gently, oh so gently,
Sings the wind to the trees,
"Sway your branches softly,
And send me all your leaves.
Send the scarlet and the amber,
Orange, red, and gold,
Send them all to me,
For the winter shall be cold.
I'll take them in my arms,
And dance them all around,
And when they are too tired,
I'll carefully lie them down."

Margie Doolittle



What is life?
It is the flash of a firefly in the night.
It is the breath of a buffalo in winter time.
It is the little shadow which runs across the grass and loses itself in the sunset.

Holy Mother Earth, the trees and all nature, are witnesses of your thoughts and deeds.

Let us all become brothers and sisters in the divine spirit of nature and rejoice in the wisdom of that which is beautiful.

February Twilight

I stood beside a hill
Smooth with new fallen snow,
A single star looked out
From the cold evening glow.

There was no other creature that saw what I could see ...
I stood and watched the evening star
As long as it watched me.

No longer is the canvas world
A dull, drab grey hue.
God takes a brush up in His hand,
And paints the sky blue.

Feature

"Who's Who: The Year In Review"

A remarkable feature of every year is the people whose unique personalities and qualities have had an effect on all of us.

Along with welcoming the new personalities, we said good-bye to some very special old ones. But we will always remember Charlie Chaplin, Elvis, Edgar Bergen, Bing and Groucho, along with the memories they left behind.

Many people became involved with sporting activities; jogging became the thing to do to get in shape; and getting in shape was the thing to do in sports; The Superbowl XII, the 75th World Series, and the Ali vs. Spinks fight.

"Who's Who: The Year In Review"

Along with these stars of the sports world, there were also a great number of talented people in the entertainment world. We saluted Sargent Peppers, "discoed" with Travolta and wished to with Tiegs. "And what could be said about Steve Martin except phenomenal" (or wild and crazy). And in music we had the record breaking groups, Styx and "The Stones".

There was much ado over the "striking" Majors and miners though some cried Tut, Tut.

And though tears were shed through our "Soaps" we saved some for each of our popes.

So we see how one person can influence many, and we have a better understanding of how we can influence others.

Two Problems Face RSHS Students

QUARTER EXAMS!
BY: FLASH MILLER

"Is Honesty The Best Policy"??

Here at Riverdale Sr. High, many so-called students, had no problems with quarter exams. Whether their subjects be anything from history to trig, they found that there was only one sure-fire way to pass.

Since most students found studying aggravating and practically futile, most moved on to a more effective method: cheating.

Students realized that this method was interesting, challenging and if they got away with it: very rewarding. It required ingenuity, creativity and most of all: DECEIT.

Here are some of the most popular ways derived from RSH students:

Method #1

Popularly known as the "cheat sheet" method, more articulate persons may like to refer to this as the "insurance sheet" method, so as to insure a good grade.

Method #2

Another method involving "pre-noting", so to speak, includes writing on clothes, hands, feet, shoes, etc. This method is practically foolproof unless you happen to have one of those teachers who happens to carry a pack of "wet-ones" everywhere she goes (in which case your palms are purple for a week).

Method #3

"Word of Mouth". This method is only effective if you have a deaf and dumb teacher — and I do mean dumb. Yelling "Hey! What's the answer to number seven?" across the room is not adviseable, in other words; it just don't cut it.

So which ever tactic you choose, just remember what Benjamin Franklin would have said if he had gone to Riverdale "Is Honesty The Best Policy??"

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PICTURE?

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS
BY SCOOP HORAGUCH

There arose many problems everyday in school, and one was the act of getting safely to one's locker.

It has been proven that it is virtually impossible for forty students of various shapes and sizes to enter what is known as a locker section simultaneously. And even if this feat were accomplished, it would prove to be very hazardous to one's health.

So you ask, "How do the locker sections function then? Well, this reporter, after observing the locker habits of many fellow students, has found that the reason for the maneuvering in and out of these sections is a matter of accurate timing and precise movements by the members.

Yes, it did take hard work and much practice to avoid being stomped and crushed by all of your little neighbors, but it was done.

Oh, there were occasional wedgings and jammings of people, but it was a good way to meet people, as some people found out.

It's like your waking up to find yourself once more

Your future lies before you like a path of fallen snow
Be careful how you tread on it for every mark will

Through all the diseases which seem incureable.
Man seems to be so perdurable.
Man is so destructive
with his hands,
Yet so constructive with his hands.

If man sees only with his eyes
Many barriers he will find.
But man can see the world exposed
With only an open mind.

A smile comes very easily,
You can wrinkle up with cheer
A hundred times before you can squeeze a single tear.
It ripples out all over
To the heart-strings that will tug,
And always leaves an echo
That is very like a hug.
So smile away, folks understand
What by a smile is meant;
It is worth a million and doesn't cost a cent.

...tive For Success

In search of something new,
To find oneself at last;
A time so valued as the present,—
The memories treasured of the past.

Yesterday has come and gone,
Today's the new beginning,
The future depends on decisions made now,
Tomorrow's success, the reward for winning.

Incentive is needed to reach one's goals,
To find what one has looked for belong.
Serenity found, disturbance
discarded,
A life to which one will always belong.

Live today! Tomorrow's going to be even better,
A future of happiness awaits those who succeed,
In finding his special place in life,
A place suited for each individual, wherever that may be.

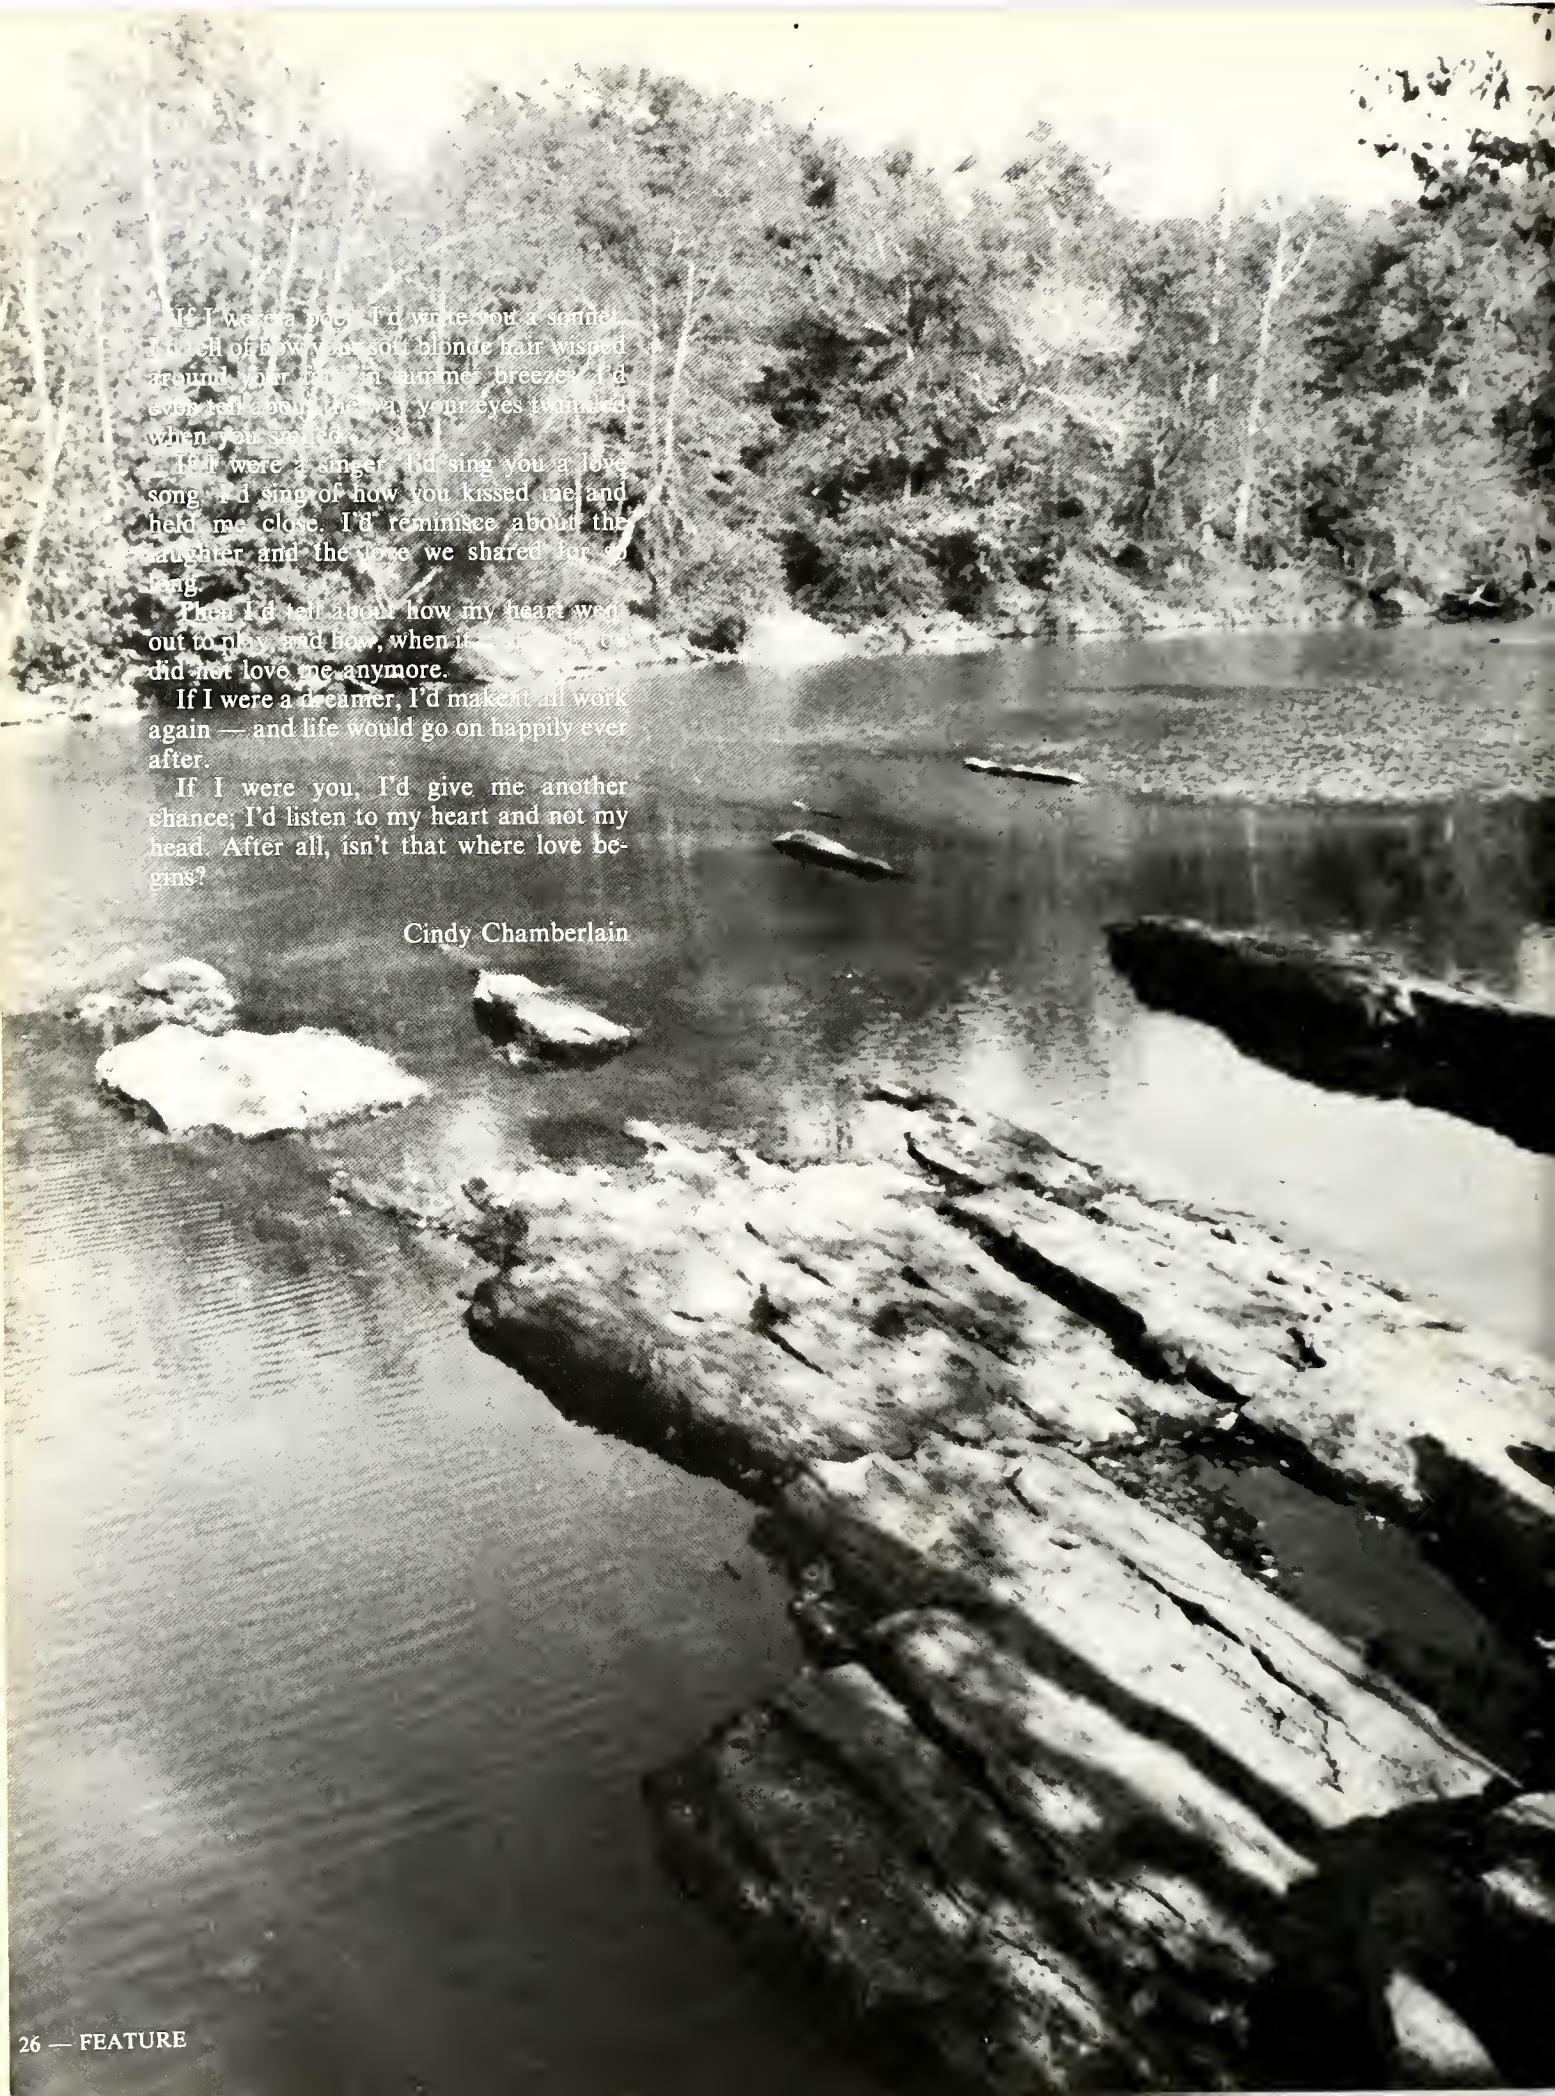
— Theresa Upham



If I were a poet, I'd write you a sonnet. I'd tell of how your golden blonde hair wisped around your face on a summer breeze. I'd even tell about the way your eyes twinkled when you smiled.

If I were a singer, I'd sing you a love song. I'd sing of how you kissed me and held me close. I'd reminisce about the laughter and the love we shared for so long.

Then I'd tell about how my heart went out to play, and how, when it returned, you did not love me anymore.

If I were a dreamer, I'd make it all work again — and life would go on happily ever after.

If I were you, I'd give me another chance; I'd listen to my heart and not my head. After all, isn't that where love begins?

"Well, here I go again. Another day of commuting my share of the human race known as adolescents back and forth to their institutions of learning. (Things could be worse though, I could be hauling oranges in Topeka like my cousin.)

"And here she comes now, my lord and master, in all her glory. Oh, but she does do her best to make life for me a bit more bearable. She feeds me often, though it does get expensive, and she keeps me, trys to keep me, clean. Which is, by the way, rather difficult when you have a couple hundred kids who think orderly is some jerk who works in a hospital."

"You don't know what it's like to have herds of people stampede your insides and then deposit their accumulated debris on your floorboard. And have you ever had anyone stick gum under your seat? It's not a pretty picture."

"Well, here we go! Ignition, . . . faint stutter, . . . stutter, stutter cough, . . . Vrrroom"

Working under the guidance of Mr. David Moore, the ANNUAL STAFF has completed its second volume of the TREASURE CHEST.

Cropping pictures, writing copy and planning layouts have been neither quick nor easy. At times, the work has been frustrating and disappointing, but the final feeling of satisfaction and excitement in accomplishing a big task has given each member a rewarding experience that will remain with them always.

Everyone found out that the Annual Staff was a full time job. It was one that took a lot of devotion and patience. It took a staff of very responsible people to handle it.

A good school newspaper is a very important aspect of school life. It not only entertains and informs the student body but it also keeps school spirit and unity at an apex.

Under the direction of Ms. Evans, our Raider Review Staff has collected and edited all the latest events of our school and reported them to you this year in The Raider Review.

Annually, the World Affairs Council of the Georgia State University Student Government Association conducts a Model United Nations for High school students.

During the simulation, the presiding officers of each Model United Nations organization would maintain a format atmosphere, similar to the actual United Nations. There were two special conferences, one consisting of the International Law of the Sea and a World Conference on the International Women's Decade.

The voice of the students in the governing of our school was heard through the STUDENT COUNCIL.

The members of the STUDENT COUNCIL were so enthusiastic about their work, that they attended many work shops, to name a few; there was a Leadership Workshop, a Council Workshop and a State Convention (which was held at Rock Eagle).

The STUDENT COUNCIL sponsored a "Get Involved" orientation program, aimed at getting the student body involved in the various organizations of our school.

Varsity Math Team

The Riverdale Senior High Math Team is a member of the Ga. Math Cooperative and competes with other schools in the five county Atlanta area. They also compete in the Clayton Junior College Meet, the Ga. State University meet, and the Ga. Southeastern meet in Americus. In 1978, March, they placed second regionally at the Clayton Jr. College meet and went onto compete in the State Meet in Macon.

At the math meets each member takes a written test and enjoys the challenge of the ciphering contest. The ciphering is a race of time and wit. The members have to be ready for the excitement and fun of the contests just as do the members of athletic teams.

The members enjoy the math events and the people they share time with. They now know the answer to the age old question — "Why Math?".

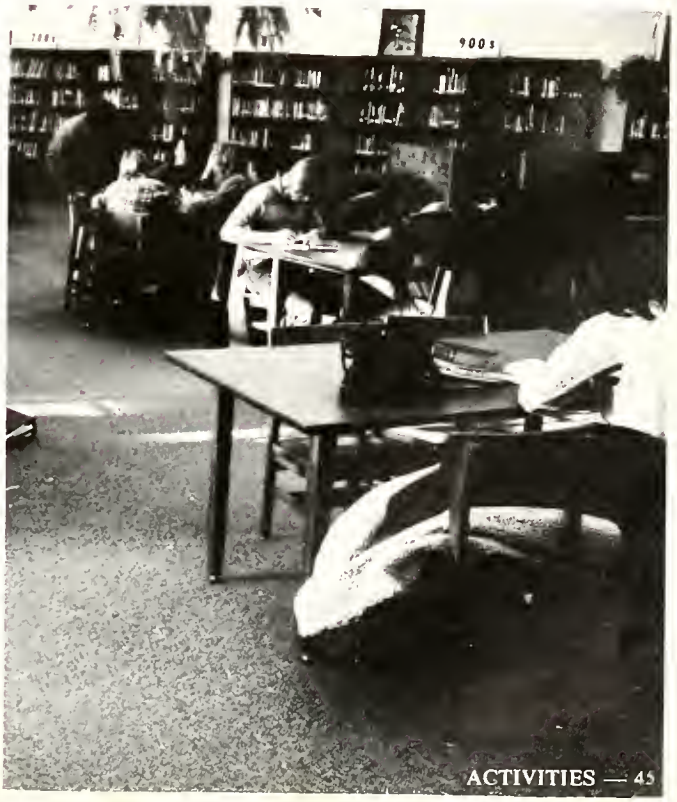
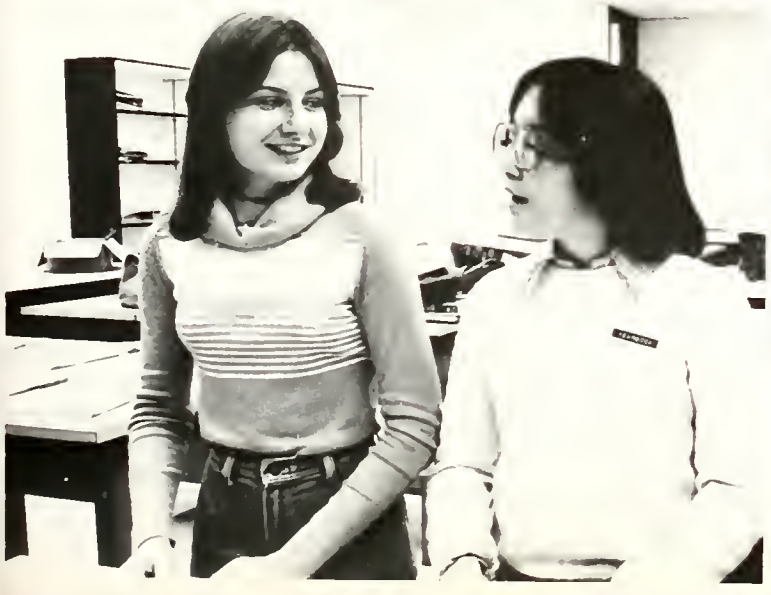
They feel that through an understanding and promotion of the INDUSTRIAL ARTS program, they can develop leadership, scholorship and craftsmenship. The Creative Writing Club was sponsored by Mr. Larry Wiley. They worked hard to organize Riverdale Senior High's first Literary Magazine, which consist of poems and short stories submitted by students. They also helped us, the Annual Staff, a great deal with copy and we greatly appreciate it.





The Social Studies Club, which was a very important part of our school, kept record of all Riverdale's history. They also sponsored a Student of the Month based on academic achievement and school activities. Student Government Day was also sponsored by the Social Studies Club, and as a result, students took various positions of city officials for a day.

One day a month the Spanish Club meets at a members house. While enjoying themselves, the club learns more about the Spanish customs. Some of the activities throughout the year included: A Halloween costume party which was held at Jackie Lattimer's home. There they sat and told ghost stories. They also had a costume contest, in which Jerry Wade won first place.

At Christmas the club got together and went caroling throughout the neighborhood. After caroling they all went to Jerry Wade's home, there they had pinatas, dancing, and carried on Merry making activities. The club is a very active club. It's a club in which everyone that comes in contact benefits.

Drama

This being a small school, the Drama Club has not performed much. But is better to do good at a few jobs, than to half way do a lot of jobs. It took a great deal of talent, patience and dedication to practice for hours as members of the Drama Club did. In the few plays the Club did, they put on an excellent performance, and we appreciate the work and effort that they put into the performances.

Serving as our advisor for the 1978-79 yearbook is David E. Moore, a man whom excells in every aspect of life. He is indispensible among bur staff. He gives us encouragement when we are ready to give p; hope when we feel as though everything is against us. Mr. Moore is one who is truly dedicated to his work and to his students. He has shared happy times and trying times with the staff and has always kept by our side "through thick and through thin." He is one to offer assistance for anything with the staff and he is greatly appreciated. For his aide and guidance throughout the year, we would like to give him our deepest thanks.

The Yearbook Staff

"ANNUAL HOUSE"

Because of the Yearbook Staff's "animal" ways and unpredictable personalities, they have been rightly nicknamed "Annual House". Little has been done to tame these savage beasts, so everyday the "Annual House" continues to be itself as they put together this memorable show of the 1978-79 school year.

Memories kept with you are very special things. But one that is cherished the most is the memory of your friends. They are those very special people without whom you'd feel lost. There are certain things about a person that makes them special and different from anyone else. Like the friend who always there when you just need someone to talk to, the friend who can make you laugh when you didn't think you could, or the friend who sticks by you when others don't seem to care. Those of us lucky enough to have such friends are very fortunate. Yet we all so often to take our friends for granted and unknowingly hurt someone. But as I said friends are very special people. They go through so much, yet with endurance. These are friendships which last a life time, even after you both go in your own separate directions. So, one should treasure and keep these friendships now for tommorrow they may be only memories. May God Bless You and thank him for true friendships. *

Love ~

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving: to reach the port of eternity, we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it — but we must sail, and not drift, nor lie at anchor.

Cindy,

I want to start off and tell you that I've enjoyed every minute of these past three years!! You are one of my very closest friends and I think that we will always be as close as we are now if not closer! Remember all those fun times we had? I loved it when we had all of those classes together when we were in the eighth grade and we were real good friends and then in the ninth we weren't as close, but things to work out GREAT in tenth grade and the next two years will be even better. What about the time we went to Hardee's after the basketball that night, that was so much fun, what about the night we rolled J.T.'s House? I thought that was so funny. But I will never forget "N.T.S.", don't you ever tell anyone about that because I haven't and some people would take it the wrong way. You and I have had some great times. Cindy, I enjoy being around you so much and I know that I could always count on you no matter what the circumstances. Don't ever forget that you can count on me, I don't care what the problem is or what I have to do, I will do my best to help you all I can. I know that you and I have different opinions about things, and we don't agree on everything, but I think that we are both big enough people to say I'm sorry. Because Cindy I would hate for something to
